Miss May Kirtland,
287 Harrison Street,
East Orange, N. J.

Dear Madam:

Answering your letter of August 26th. No value can be placed on cents without seeing them as condition governs their price. They may be worth from two cents to several dollars each.

Your half-cent of 1805 is worth from ten cents to seventy-five cents. The stiver has no value.

Very truly yours,

Curator.
